

Walls Come Tumbling Down

[Intro]

Jericho was strong,
Jericho seemed unbreakable.
"The walls will stand forever,"
The city seemed to say.
But Almighty told His people,
"March and blow the horn."
They followed Him for seven days—
Then the walls came tumbling down.

[Verse 1]

Don't set up a Jericho
Deep within your heart,
Trying to hide certain things
And keep them in the dark.
Remember, God knows
Everybody's heart.
You think that He can't see it,
You think He doesn't care,
You wonder if your God
Is really even there.

[Pre-Chorus]

But don't you see the walls
That keep the people out?
Don't you know those walls
Keep truth from coming out?
Let God show you where they are,
Let His light come pouring in.
Hear the trumpet sounding—
Let the victory begin.

[Chorus]

Walls come tumbling down,
Tumbling down, down to the ground.
Walls that keep you from His love,
Walls that keep His people out.

Walls Come Tumbling Down

When the light of God breaks through,
When you trust in Jesus Christ,
Walls come tumbling down,
Walls come tumbling down.

[Post-Chorus Hook]

Come down, come down,
Let every Jericho come down.
Come down, come down,
Let the walls come tumbling down.

[Verse 2]

Sometimes you just don't know
What keeps holding you back.
It seems like you just can't
Walls against your family,
Walls around being loved,
Walls that block your pathway
To the loving God above.
Walls hiding what you're thinking,
Walls hiding what you've done,
Walls that keep you from admitting
Where the hurt and fear began.

[Pre-Chorus 2]

The enemy will whisper,
"Keep it buried, keep it still."
But the Spirit brings repentance
And the strength to do God's will.
You don't have to fight alone,
You don't have to wear the chains.
Christ can bring it to the light
And free your heart again.

[Chorus]

Walls come tumbling down,

Walls Come Tumbling Down

Tumbling down, down to the ground.
Walls that keep you from His love,
Walls that keep His people out.
When the light of God breaks through,
When you trust in Jesus Christ,
Walls come tumbling down,
Walls come tumbling down.

[Verse 3]

If you build your own walls,
You block the will of God.
But He can be your high tower,
Your shelter and your Rock.
He will build a wall of protection
All around your life.
Fear God and He will lead you,
Trust the power of Christ.
He will part a sea before you,
He will answer when you call.
He will give you what you need,
And He can tear down every wall.

[Bridge]

Six days they kept marching,
Though nothing seemed to change.
On the seventh day they circled,
Still trusting in His name.
Then the trumpets cried like thunder,
And the people gave a shout.
What no human hand could conquer,
God Almighty brought it down.

So, bring Him every hidden thing,
Every sorrow, every sin.
Let the Father search your heart,
Let Jesus enter in.
No wall is too high,

Walls Come Tumbling Down

No wound is buried too deep.
What you surrender to the Lord
You no longer have to keep.

(Final Chorus)

Walls come tumbling down,
Tumbling down, down to the ground.
Walls against the Father,
Walls that keep His people out.
Walls around receiving love,
Walls that keep you bound inside.
Walls come tumbling down
By the power of Jesus Christ.

(Final Hook)

Come down, come down,
Let every wall of fear come down.
Come down, come down,
Let every wall of sin come down.
Come down, come down,
Let every Jericho come down.
By the Father and the Son,
Let the walls come tumbling down.

(Outro)

Don't set up Jericho walls
In your heart.
Let God show you where they are.
Let Christ bring them to the light.
Then watch the walls—
Watch the walls—
Come tumbling down.

Oh, yes, that's right
