

Revelation of Jesus Christ

[Instrumental Intro]

[Spoken Intro]

"The Revelation of Jesus Christ..."

Blessed are those who hear

And keep the words written here,

For the time is near.

[Intro – Sung]

He is Alpha and Omega,

The First and Last, the Living One.

Every eye will see Him coming with the clouds—

The Revelation has begun!

[Verse 1]

John stood on Patmos when a trumpet voice

Called him to witness and make his choice.

Seven golden lampstands surrounded the Son,

With eyes like fire and a face like the sun.

To seven churches His message went out:

Return to first love; cast away doubt.

Wake, hold fast, stay faithful and true;

Never grow lukewarm in all that you do.

Revelation of Jesus Christ

Hear what the Spirit says.

Stand firm and remain faithful—

The overcomer will be blessed!

[Chorus – Hook]

Revelation! Revelation! Revelation of Jesus Christ

Jesus Christ will forever reign!

The Lamb once slain lives again!

Hear His warning; keep the faith;

The King is coming—prepare the way!

Revelation—Christ will reign!

[Verse 2]

A door opened wide to Heaven's throne;

Thunder and lightning encircled the One.

"Holy, holy, holy," the living creatures cried;

Twenty-four elders laid their crowns aside.

A scroll lay sealed in Almighty's hand:

"Who is worthy?" echoed over the land.

The Lion of Judah appeared as a Lamb—

Only Jesus was worthy to open God's plan.

The seals brought conquest, war, famine, and death.

Martyrs cried, "Lord, how long till justice is done?"

Saints dressed in white from every nation

Praised God and the Lamb for salvation.

[Verse 3]

Seven trumpets sounded; the nations were warned.

Two faithful witnesses stood through the storm.

A woman clothed with the sun gave birth;

The dragon brought his fury to earth.

The beast demanded worship, his mark and his name;

The false prophet deceived with wonders and fame.

"Here is wisdom"—six hundred sixty-six:

A counterfeit kingdom built on Satan's tricks.

The faithful overcame when the accuser came

By the Lamb's blood and the word they proclaimed.

Seven bowls poured God's judgment on sin,

And Babylon's kingdom came crashing to an end.

[Bridge]

This is more than mystery, thunder, fear, and flame:

Choose the Lamb, refuse the beast, stand in Jesus' name!

Keep God's commandments and faith in His Son;

Endure to the ending—the victory is won!

"Fallen is Babylon!" Come out, one and all;

Blessed are the faithful at the Lamb's wedding call!

[Verse 4]

Then Heaven opened—a white horse appeared;

Faithful and True came, whom all evil feared.

The beast and false prophet were brought to their end;

The dragon was bound while Christ ruled with His friends.

The thousand years ended; the final fight came.

Satan was defeated and cast into flame.

The books were opened at the great white throne;

Each life was judged by the deeds it had sown.

[Final Verse]

Then a new Heaven and a new earth appeared;

God lived with His people and wiped every tear.

No death, no sorrow, no crying, no pain—

"Behold, I make all things new!" said the One who reigns.

New Jerusalem shone with the glory of God;

The nations walked in the light of the Lamb.

The river of life flowed bright from the throne,

And God and His children forever were one.

[Final Chorus]

Revelation! Revelation!

Jesus Christ will reign!

The Lamb once slain lives again!

Hear His promise; keep the faith;

The King is coming—prepare the way!

Revelation—Christ will reign!

[Outro]

The Spirit and the Bride say, "Come!"

Let everyone who hears say, "Come!"

Whoever is thirsty, come and receive

The water of life—freely!

"Surely, I am coming quickly."

Amen!

Even so, come, Lord Jesus!
