

Jesus

A bright star in the midnight sky, the promise of salvation came alive
Angels sang to shepherds a song of joy, “Peace on earth begins tonight.”

A virgin-born miracle, He’s heaven’s gift to us,
In Bethlehem a Savior came—Emanuel, God with us.
Wise men followed glory, that star that wouldn’t fade, Then quiet years from - boy to man - in Nazareth where love and mercy stayed.

Jesus—Immanuel, Messiah, Holy One
Prince of Peace, Son of David, God’s own Son
The Word made flesh, the Light of the world shines through Lamb of God, King of Kings—all the prophets spoke of
You
From ancient pages, every promise leads us to... Jesus
Holy Father thank you for the love You have for us
You sent Jesus Christ to save us, save us from our sin.

God almighty, God almighty cares for us.
God almighty, God almighty died for us.
God so lover the world that he gave His only son

All ye people sing it loud
All ye people sing it proud
Jesus Christ is Lord of Lords

Jesus

All creation let it ring
That Jesus Christ is King of Kings

Jesus, Jesus Your our King
Jesus, Jesus Your our King
Jesus, Jesus Your our King, oh Lord Jesus be is me

Down in Jordan waters, the heavens opened wide,
When Jesus was Baptized
The Spirit like a dove came down from up above,
and love was testified:
“This is My beloved Son who I Love,”
the father’s voice rang loud and clear, Then wilderness temptation— Satan always there but,
still He conquered fear.
He called the ones who’d follow, “Come and walk with Me,”
And taught a mountain mercy—how the heart gets free.
He said "Salvation comes from Me"

God almighty, God almighty cares for us.
God almighty, God almighty He died for us.

Jesus—Immanuel, Messiah, Holy One
Prince of Peace, Son of David, God’s own Son
The Word made flesh, the Light of the world shines
through
Lamb of God, King of Kings—all the prophets spoke of
You

Jesus

From ancient pages, every promise leads us to... Jesus
Holy Father thank you for the love You have for us
You sent Jesus Christ to save us, yes, to save us from our sin.

He touched the outcast leper, and his pain fell off like chains,
He spoke and calmed the waters; He healed the sick who were in pain.
He opened the eyes of the blind, made the lame man stand,
Fed the hungry thousands with only some bread and fish in His hand.
He wept with those who suffered, then called the dead to rise—
And said, “I am the Way and Truth and Life.”

In an upper room He broke the bread, He poured the cup of grace,
He washed the feet of sinners with a servant's heart and grace.
Then in the garden darkness, He chose the Father's will,
Betrayed, condemned, yet innocent—He loved us still.
A cross upon a hillside where forgiveness found a voice, Then a stone rolled from the tomb—He rose, and now we all can rejoice.

He has risen, Jesus Christ has risen from the dead
Jesus Christ has risen, that's what I said

Suffering Servant, lifted high, You carried all my blame, Risen Savior, living Lord—no other Name.
Ascending King, You reign above, You're coming back anew,
And every knee will bow, every tongue say: "It's You...!"

Jesus

Jesus it is You!

Holy Father thank you for the love You have for us
You sent Jesus Christ to save us, yes, to save us from our
sin.
